Will Focus On Upcoming Session In Congress, President Bush’s Budget

Washington, D.C. --

Second District Congressman Brad Carson (D-OK) will be holding a “Breakfast With Your Congressman” in Grove on Friday, February 8th. Congressman Carson will be speaking about important legislative priorities in the upcoming session in Congress and also President Bush’s newly released fiscal year 2003 budget.

“I am looking forward to talking with and hearing the concerns of the citizens of Grove and the surrounding Grand Lake community,” said Congressman Carson. “There are many vital pieces of legislation to be considered during the upcoming session in Congress, ranging from increased funding for our military and strengthening of homeland security, to issues of importance to seniors such as a prescription drug benefit. I believe it is essential to fully understand the opinions of my constituents before I have to debate and vote on these important issues of the day.”

The “Breakfast With Your Congressman” forum will take place from 7:30 am – 9:00 am at Lakeside Restaurant in Grove. The event is open to the public and the Congressman will have a question and answer session with the audience
